All Will Be Well

Comforted in your parents' arms, life gets off to a great start. Trust in your mom and dad. They were there from the start, always cared for you, and will always be there for you.

Life Is But A Dream

Life is but a dream! We play, grow, learn, love, laugh; delight and dream...
and sometimes cry.

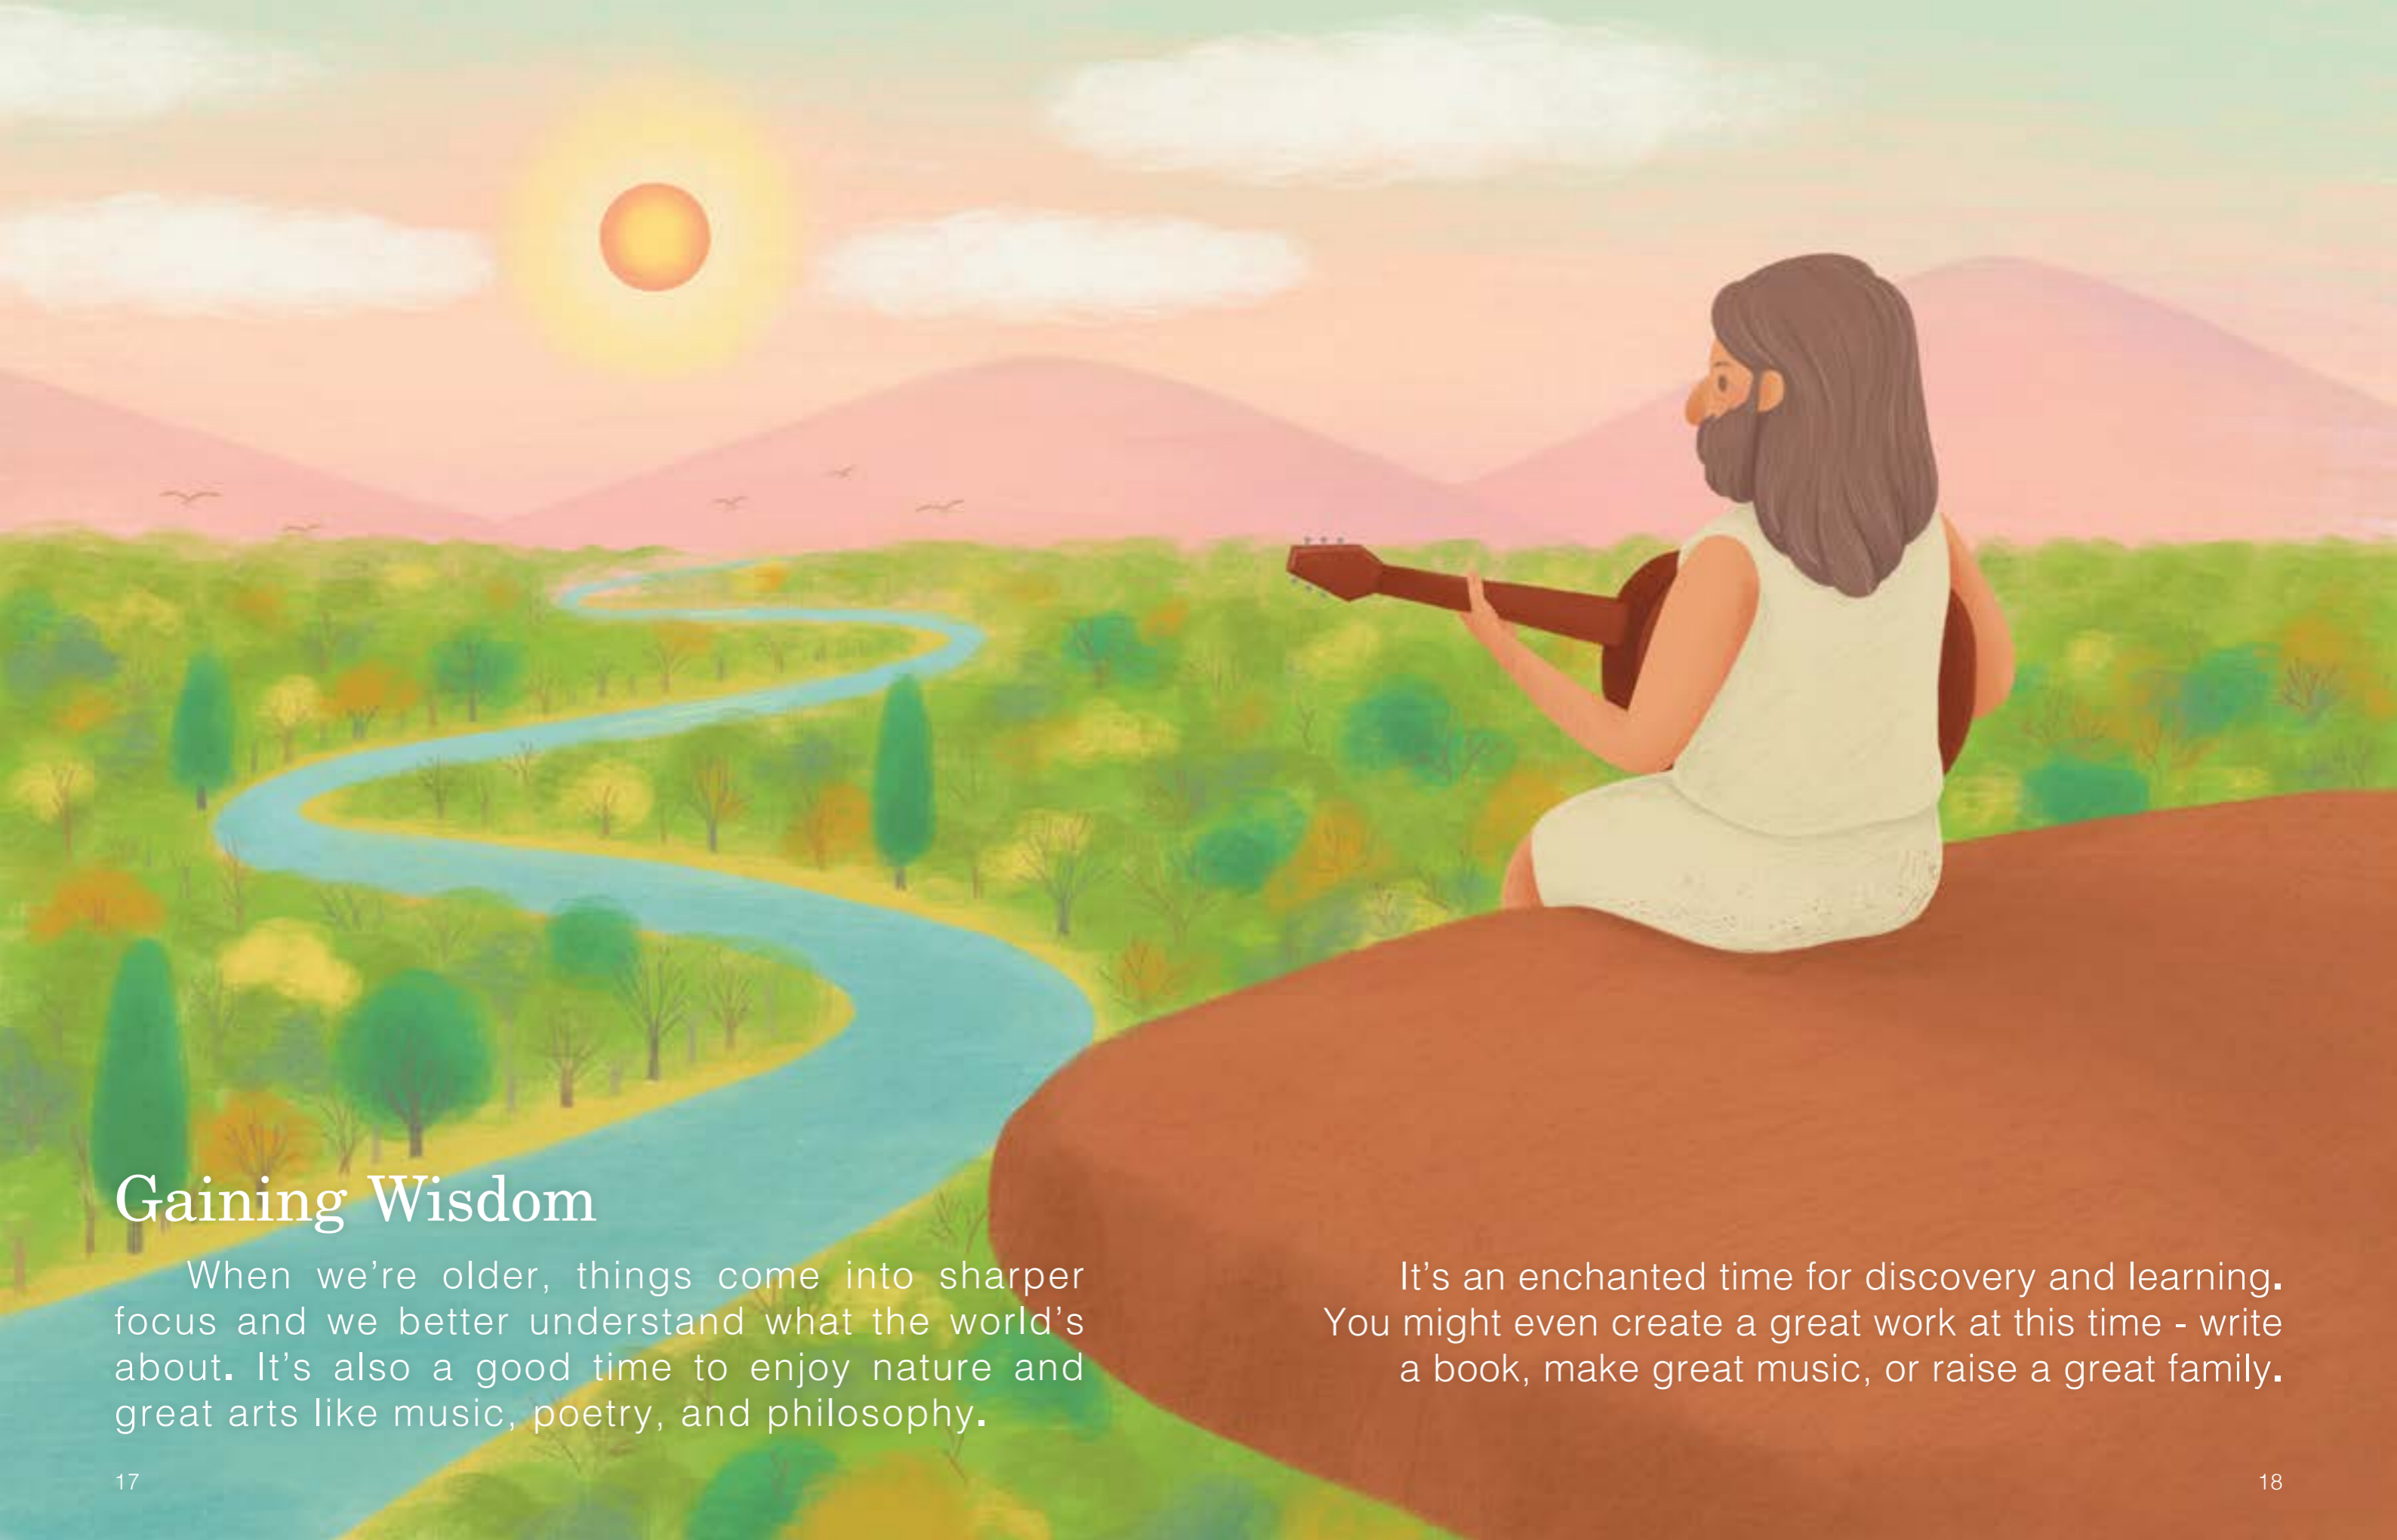

Life is full of fun and fantastic things
to see, explore, and experience!

Paths

Life offers many paths to choose from. Think each choice over carefully but don't worry too much; if what you choose is good and has a heart, you'll find your happy place and your destiny will naturally unveil itself.

Gaining Wisdom

When we're older, things come into sharper focus and we better understand what the world's about. It's also a good time to enjoy nature and great arts like music, poetry, and philosophy.

It's an enchanted time for discovery and learning. You might even create a great work at this time - write a book, make great music, or raise a great family.

Twilight

At the twilight of our great journey, we're finally able to retire and do the things we always wanted to but didn't have time for! We might take up a hobby, volunteer time helping others, play with our grandkids more, travel, and maybe even fish and play golf.

Flowing down our very own river of life we look back, smile, and feel great warmth in our hearts.

Life was a great adventure and included so much goodness, rightness, caring, and loving. In many ways it was near perfect. It was your story, your path; how could it have been any better?
